

FOR CHURCH REUNION

Proposition Now Before Two Presbyterian Bodies.

REPORTED FAVORABLY

THE CUMBERLAND CHURCH TO REJOIN THE PARENT BODY.

Retiring Moderator Coyle Preaches on National Perils—Unity Subject Before the Baptists.

A dispatch from Buffalo, N. Y., last night says: The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States was this afternoon stampeded for the Rev. J. Addison Henry, D.D., of Washington and Jefferson College, Philadelphia, for moderator. Dr. Henry was elected unanimously almost before the other leading candidates for the position knew what was going on.

Three minutes before Dr. Henry was chosen it was generally believed that the Rev. James D. Moffatt, D.D., of Jefferson College, Washington, Pa., would be elected on the second ballot at least. The other prominent candidate was the Rev. Howard Agnew Johnston, D.D., of New York. It was while the friends of Dr. Moffatt and Dr. Johnston were preparing to nominate their respective candidates that the stampede for Dr. Henry started, and he was elected within twenty minutes.

Preaches on National Perils.

The Rev. Robert F. Coyle, D.D., of Denver, the retiring moderator, preached the opening sermon. In the course of his sermon Dr. Coyle said: "Few things are more in evidence at the present time than the unrest of the masses. Their discontent increases. Their complaints grow louder and louder. Strikes multiply. The gulf between capital and labor widens, and unless some solution is found it is not pleasant to think what the outcome is likely to be."

"It is something that should make us pause when conservative journals and conservative public men are constrained to characterize this age as 'age of graft,' when warnings have recently sounded out from pulpits and benches against the money-madness of our times."

"Our ideals of the home have gone down. We talk of Mormonism and affect a horror of it as an unclean and loathsome thing, but as between a system that allows a man to have three or four ex-wives, or a woman to have three or four ex-husbands, and a system that permits a man to have his plural wives all at once there is very little to choose. I am not sure but the odds are on the side of the Mormons. If this social scourge of easy divorce continues it will call down upon us as a people the curse of Almighty God. Wives are taking the place of mothers. Childless families are being substituted for family circles. The flat and the apartment house and the club, together with certain social and prudential considerations, are robbing our married women of maternal instincts and ambitions."

The Cumberland Assembly.

A dispatch from Dallas, Tex., last night says: Little more than thirty to its regular business was accomplished at the first session here of the seventy-fifth annual general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

During the morning a praise service and the delivery of the annual sermon by the Rev. R. M. Tinnorn, D. D., of Denver, Col., consumed the time. The sermon was one suggestive of and favorable to the proposed union of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America.

Judge W. E. Settle of Frankfort, Ky., judge of the court of appeals of that state, was chosen moderator. His opponent was Judge F. H. Pronger of Marshall, Tex. The contest between these two candidates was considered distinctly one between the elements of the church favoring union with the Presbyterian Church in the United States and those opposing it. Judge Settle, the winning nominee, being regarded as favoring the union. He was elected by a vote of 158 to 78.

The report of the committee on fraternity and union advocates the union of the Cumberland Presbyterian and the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America. The report states it is mutually recognized that doctrinal agreement now exists between the two churches, and suggests how the details of the union may be adjusted.

The closing recommendation provides that the Presbyterian Church shall make such change of government as will allow separate presbyteries for a particular race or nationality.

Appeal for Church Unity.

A dispatch from Cleveland, Ohio, last night says: A significant address by President A. H. Strong of Rochester Theological Seminary on the denominational outlook was the feature of today's Baptist anniversary.

After a review of the remarkable growth of the Baptists in America, he pointed out the denominational changes that have taken place through a progressive theology and a new recognition of relationship to other denominations and to society. Baptists today, he said, recognize the unity of Christians, and work in Christian fellowship with all denominations loyal to Christ. Baptists, he declared, emphasized their unity with other Christian bodies rather than their differences between them. It was unanimously voted that a first edition of 100,000 copies of this address be printed and circulated.

Rev. Dr. J. N. Prestidge of Louisville, Ky., spoke for a movement for a pan-Baptist conference in London in July, 1905. This has been approved by the Baptists of England, Australia and other countries, and by the Southern Baptist convention.

Campaign for an Endowment Fund.

At the session yesterday a resolution was adopted inaugurating a campaign to be managed by a special committee of seven to raise an endowment fund of $500,000 to be used in the education of a native ministry in foreign mission fields. President Wood of Newton Seminary, who presented the resolution, said it was the most important action proposed in many years. Millions had been raised for educational endowments in America. It was time now to begin endowments for our mission colleges and universities. This was a far-sighted policy. This $500,000 put into training native ministers in ten years would produce greater effect than ten times the sum spent on evangelization by American missionaries. This new policy will affect the missionary work of the Baptists in all the eastern countries, especially in China, India and the Philippines. The selection of the special committee of seven to have charge was left to the executive committee. The newly elected president of the union in William A. Mann of Boston. The executive officers remain as last year: W. B. Mable and Barbour being elected home and foreign secretaries.

UNITARIANS DISAGREE.

Western Churches Object to Being Ruled by Life Members.

A dispatch from Chicago last night says: Members of the western Unitarian conference concluded its fifty-second annual meeting today after electing Morton D. Hull of Chicago as president.

A resolution presented by the business committee expressing the opinion that in the future the voting members of the American Unitarian Association of Boston be restricted to regularly chosen delegates from churches and Unitarian religious societies, was sent back to the committee to have its phraseology slightly changed before it was adopted. The purpose of the conference was to express its dissatisfaction at having the national organization controlled by persons who have purchased life memberships. To emphasize its position, members of the western body pledged themselves to resign their life memberships in the national organization.
